

OUR STORIES

Real profiles in love, strength and living with Alzheimer's.

JULIE & LES (Eng)

LES: Julie was always a voracious reader. She'd carry two novels on an airplane cause she'd read one on a three, four-hour ride. I'm sure it was gradual, but one day I noticed... you know, there's no book at the bedside anymore. It got to the point though where it was taking her longer and longer to read a book. And at some point, I began to notice that she'd read one page and have to go back because she couldn't remember what it is she had just read.

JULIE: We realized this was something we had to talk about. I don't remember much these days after I read; but Les does for me, and I love it.